

2N/3D

GREYTON FAUNA/FLORA WALK, HISTORIC VILLAGE VISIT & CULINARY EXPERIENCE

FROM R8,350PP
(GROUP OF 14)

MIN GROUP SIZE: 10

EXPERT GUIDES

DR MIKE KOCK

A seasoned veterinarian with over 40 years of expertise in wildlife, conservation, and One Health, has worked across 14 African countries and three continents.

CULINARY EXPERIENCES

Indulge in daily lunches complemented by wine tastings, at charming local venues, and gourmet sundowner and dinners at various venues in and around Greyton.

ACCOMMODATION

Accommodation is in a 4-star luxe historic hotel

ITINERARY

DAY ONE

ARRIVAL & LUNCH:

- Welcome and check in at the Post House
- Lunch and Wine in the gardens at Hub & Spoke, your 'base camp', where you will meet your expert guide for the next days trip.
- Afternoon at leisure to explore the scenic village of Greyton

DINNER:

Sundowners & dinner at The Post House

DAY TWO

BREAKFAST:

Full daily breakfast

ACTIVITY / Morning:

- Meet at 'Base Camp / Hub & Spoke' for a briefing/talk session with Dr Mike Kock, where he will introduce you to the two activities for the day.
- Depart by foot for a 3-4 hours educational walk in the Greyton Mountains, discovering the fauna and flora of the Cape Floral Kingdom

LUNCH:

Gourmet lunch experience in the gardens at Hub & Spoke upon returning from the walk. Freshen up.

ACTIVITY / Afternoon:

Depart from 'base camp' for a short transfer to the historic village of Genadendal, where Dr Mike will take you on a tour of the village and museum.

DINNER:

Daily sundowner and dinner experience

DAY THREE

BREAKFAST:

Full breakfast

Check out and depart for the airport

PRICE INCLUDES:

- Return airport transfers, Cape Town Airport, and other tour transfers
- Luxe 4-star country accommodation
- Full breakfast, lunch and dinner experiences daily
- Daily snack pack, in an Uzwelo handmade hiking pouch
- Gift from The Wandering Dog

ABOUT THE TOUR

Exploring the Greyton mountains on two to three-hour walks along the Riviersonderend river offers surprises at every turn. Greyton village is nestled at the base of the Riviersonderend mountains to the north, including the Nature Reserve. South of the village, beyond the Riviersonderend river, you'll find the Ruens hills, a blend of fynbos and renosterveld, part of the Fynbos biome. The Greyton area boasts a rich diversity of plant species, representing both Fynbos and Shale Renosterveld, along with abundant wildlife, including mammals, birds, reptiles, insects, and aquatic species.

Genadendal, situated in the Riviersonderend valley in the Western Cape's Overberg region, lies just 5 kilometers from Greyton. Originally founded as a Moravian mission in 1737 under the name Baviaanskloof, it was later renamed Genadendal in 1806. This village boasts a distinctive history, and it held special significance for Nelson Mandela, who, upon his release from prison and becoming South Africa's first democratic President, chose Genadendal as the name for his official residence in Cape Town. The village features a charming square with historic buildings, including a church and an old watermill. Additionally, the museum offers an intriguing glimpse into the area's rich history and that of South Africa as a whole, making a leisurely stroll through the square and a visit to the museum highly recommended.

ABOUT | GREYTON MOUNTAINS FLORA AND FAUNA

Greyton village is nestled at the base of the Riviersonderend mountains to the north, including the Nature Reserve. South of the village, beyond the Riviersonderend river, you'll find the Ruens hills, a blend of fynbos and renosterveld, part of the Fynbos biome.

The Greyton area boasts a rich diversity of plant species, representing both Fynbos and Shale Renosterveld, along with abundant wildlife, including mammals, birds, reptiles, insects, and aquatic species.

ABOUT | GENADENDAL, A SIGNIFICANT VILLAGE IN SA'S HISTORY

Genadendal, situated in the Riviersonderend valley in the Western Cape's Overberg region, lies just 5 kilometers from Greyton. Originally founded as a Moravian mission in 1737 under the name Baviaanskloof, it was later renamed Genadendal in 1806. This village boasts a distinctive history, and it held special significance for Nelson Mandela, who, upon his release from prison and becoming South Africa's first democratic President, chose Genadendal as the name for his official residence in Cape Town.

The village features a charming square with historic buildings, including a church and an old watermill. Additionally, the museum offers an intriguing glimpse into the area's rich history and that of South Africa as a whole, making a leisurely stroll through the square and a visit to the museum highly recommended.

ABOUT YOUR GUIDE | DR MIKE KOCK

Dr. Michael Kock, a seasoned veterinarian with over 40 years of expertise in wildlife, conservation, and One Health, has worked across 14 African countries and three continents. His extensive fieldwork has taken him from the lush Tropical Forest to the vast grass savannas and swamplands of South Sudan. An accomplished photographer and storyteller, he published the visually captivating book "Through My Eyes: Journey of a Wildlife Veterinarian" in 2019.

Dr. Kock's career has immersed him in the challenges of wildlife conservation, including the "Rhino Wars" in Zimbabwe and the poaching crisis affecting elephants across Africa. His work underscores the vital role of communities in conservation efforts, emphasizing the need for their involvement and benefit from wildlife and habitat protection.

Today, he remains engaged in conservation through education and teaching while residing in a quaint village in the Western Cape's Overberg region, where he explores the diverse landscapes of the Cape Floristic Region, from tracking elephants in the past to finding fascination in the region's vibrant flora today.

ABOUT YOUR GUIDE | PROF ANDREW SMITH

Andrew B. Smith, an Emeritus Professor of Archaeology at UCT with a PhD from the University of California, Berkeley, boasts a prolific career as a professor and the author of nine books.

With extensive field experience living and collaborating with Tuareg herders in the West African Sahel and Ju/'hoansi Bushmen in Namibia, his research centers on the evolution of pastoralism in Africa and its impact on indigenous hunting societies.

In his latest work, "The First People" (2021), Dr. Smith provides a comprehensive exploration, not only delving into archaeology but also incorporating linguistics and genetics, to shed light on the history of the Bushmen and Khoekhoen descendants, particularly their experiences during the colonial era.

PRICE INCLUDES:

- Return airport transfers, Cape Town Airport
- All tour transfers
- 4-star Luxe country accommodation
- Full breakfast, lunch and dinner experiences daily
- Daily snack pack, in an Uzwelo handmade hiking pouch
- Gift from The Wandering Dog

T&C'S

- Min guests per booking: 10
- Max guests per booking: 14
- Prices advertised are 'from' and can vary according to number of guests in final group.
- Restaurants and accommodation are subject to availability, and may change depending on requirements.
- No flights are included in these rates.
- Accommodation is 4-star country luxe double rooms
- Dietary requirements are to be advised prior to arrival.

RATES

- Fully inclusive
- See T&C's

2N/3D | PER PERSON

- Groups of 10-13: R8,800.00
- Groups of 14: R8,350.00

THE WANDERING DOG

When adventure beckons...
come wandering with us!

Contact us to book:
booknow@thewanderingdogevents.com

thewanderingdogevents.com